Sponsorship Options

#AgriVoltaicsIFE

Become a Sponsor of the AgriVoltaics Industry Forum Europe 2023, which will be taking place from November 28 to November 29 in Strasbourg, France, as a twin event to the renowned AgriVoltaics World Conference. This is a unique opportunity for you to gain exposure and recognition as a leader in the agrivoltaics community, and to network with like-minded professionals and experts in the field.

Following four successful international AgriVoltaics World Conferences in Italy, South Korea, and online, AgriVoltaics IFE23 will bring together top researchers, industry professionals, and policymakers to discuss the latest innovations, challenges, and opportunities in the field of agrivoltaics. This event will provide a platform for participants to share their knowledge and insights, and to explore new collaborations and partnerships.

By sponsoring this event, you will have the opportunity to showcase your organization's commitment to sustainable agriculture and renewable energy. Your brand will be prominently displayed on event materials and on our website, and you will have the opportunity to connect with potential customers, partners, and investors.

Join us as a sponsor for this groundbreaking event, and help us create a more sustainable and prosperous future for both agriculture and the environment.
